> "There is power in flipping the script. North Omaha is typically where people are the recipients of acts of service. Lives change when Jesus-followers in our neighborhood become the ones creating the projects, recruiting the people, and giving back to their community."

▶ Celebrating Our Network

Stretching 117 miles from Franklin, New Hampshire to Newburyport, Massachusetts flows the Merrimack River, forming the border between the two states. At its origin are two rivers - the Pemigewasset and Winnipesaukee - whose convergence are beautiful, yet relatively unimpressive. However, by the time the Merrimack's waters make the long journey past our family's home in Lowell, Massachusetts and ultimately collide into the Atlantic, the river becomes a substantial and powerful source of life for surrounding communities.

In the same way that the impressive Merrimack is simply the sum of its parts, the Within Reach network is, very simply, a beautiful community made up of tens-of-thousands of Jesus-followers alongside leaders in church, community, and business who share a love for and commitment to King Jesus. It's by moving together, not apart, that we imagine fulfilling Jesus' call to reach our city with His story of grace, hope, and renewal.

Over the past three years, Within Reach has grown in beauty, diversity, and strength as more partners have embraced this work of city reaching and renewal. As we celebrate this growing community and continue gaining clarity around the work Jesus is calling us to, we believe the best days are ahead.

This fall, we will unveil the State of the City Project, a highly collaborative initiative that will inform and guide our next ten years of collective efforts as we seek the good of the Omaha Metro. It's because of your joyful commitment to the greater body of Christ that we can confidently look downstream knowing that the Within Reach network will only become stronger and more beautiful for Jesus' glory and the good of others.
